

Youth Alive Ministries

SOUTH AFRICA

Building hope in the youth of south Africa

Kwazulu-Natal is the largest tribal homeland in South Africa, where fifty percent of the population is under 15 years of age. Considered the epicentre of HIV and AIDS in Southern Africa, youth here not only face this daunting disease but also the challenges presented by unemployment, homelessness and violence.

Showing the way by showing they care

Youth Alive, led by Rev. Prince Mntambo, is committed to helping students find lasting hope through new life in Jesus. Ministry staff provide counsel and help young people through the following programs.

Prince Mntambo leads Youth Alive and serves young people who face the daunting challenges of HIV and AIDS, unemployment and violence.

- The Youth Alive Ministry works in public schools, conducting assemblies where they share the gospel, build relationships and talk to young people about safe and positive living.
- A presence in public schools allows staff the opportunity to care for youth and their families who live in the shadow of AIDS. Staff often conduct funerals and memorials for teachers and students who have died.
- In addition to their work in schools, Youth Alive operates club ministries and camping programs for different age groups, offering both discipleship and leadership training.

- Prince also works with pastors and youth leaders in the region to develop effective outreach ministries to youth in need. They also conduct HIV and AIDS awareness programs in the community.

Partners International brings Canadians into partnership with indigenous Christian ministries to advance the Kingdom of God. Together, through these Extraordinary Partnerships, we share and demonstrate the love of God that transforms people and makes a lasting difference in their communities.
